-82 PER SET-
Channel
Addition Gets OK
... IN HOUSE

Washington (P)—The House shouted approval Tuesday of a bill to require television set makers to build into them the capability of receiving all TV channels, both VHF and UHF.

Final action was deferred until Wednesday because of a demand for a "normal roll call vote. There was little opposition to the bill, aimed at fostering greater use of the UHF (ultra high frequency) television band. House passage will send the bill to the Senate.

Rep. Oren Harris, D-Ark., chairman of the House Commerce Committee, said the radio spectrum is "one of the greatest natural resources of the country" and that part of it is now "going to waste."

Only 12 UHF
There are only 12 UHF (very high frequency) TV channels. There are 70 UHF channels, enough to provide channels for 1,544 UHF TV stations. At present there are only 103 UHF stations, using only 7% of the potential of the UHF frequencies.

When the broadcasting spectrum was split into the VHF and UHF bands 10 years ago, the VHF stations soon became predominant.

This was because relatively few sets were equipped to receive UHF. Advertisers therefore preferred to buy time on VHF channels, and the competitive situation of the UHF stations became progressively worse. Some of them went broke and off the air.

Not Mentioned
Not mentioned in the bill was a related proposal by the Federal Communications Commission to shift some existing VHF channels from some cities so as to leave only UHF stations to serve them. Again, this was aimed at improving the competitive position of UHF.

So much opposition developed to this "de-intermixing" plan that the FCC agreed to drop the proposal in return for the all-channel receiver legislation. Harris set up this compromise during his committee's hearing on the bill, and the FCC confirmed it in an official letter to the committee. However, de-intermixing proceedings already in the courts would not be affected.

Rep. Harold R. Collier, R-Ill., opposed the bill because "I don't think Congress has any right to dictate" to manufacturers what kind of equipment they must make.

Cost More
He said all-channel sets would cost an estimated $20 to $25 more.

IMMIGRATION PROBLEMS

"You may have come from the moon without any trouble, buddy, but you can't walk down O Street without a permit." That may not have been exactly what Lincoln Police Sgt. O. D. Barker told "Bleep Bleep," the moon man Tuesday, but whatever the sergeant said, "Bleep

Federal Bureau Called
Power Supply Solution

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer
A Nebraska rural public power spokesman has suggested that rural districts look to the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation as "our first choice" in seeking additional power supply which will be necessary by 1966.

In 1965, "all existing assigned resources from the Nebraska Public Power System will be utilized by the 27 (rural) customers now under contract," Ralph Foreman of Columbus pointed out. USBR power "offers the lowest over-all cost" and would result in an annual savings of some $360,000 when compared to the cost of 100,000 kilowatts of new steam generation, Foreman noted.

Foreman, manager of the Nebraska Electric Generation and Transmission Cooperative, Inc., stated his case in the current issue of the Nebraska Electric Farmer.

Concern Mounts
Power leaders in Nebraska have been increasingly concerned about the need for an estimated 100,000 additional kilowatts of power in the state by 1966.

The additional supply must be provided either by purchase or new plant construction. The latter path would present new problems of determining which agency is to construct the new source of power.

NPPS assigned resources to rural districts now total 261,000 kilowatts.

In comparing USBR costs with steam costs (new) to supply the rural loads, the differential exceeds one mill per kilowatt hour, Foreman pointed out.

"If it should result that USBR power would be available in sufficient amounts to delay steam generation (production) only one year or so, then plans should be formulated to prepare for the future supply," Foreman declared.

Time For Decision
"We have time now to prepare properly for this decision that must be made soon."

The matter is confused at this time pending a Department of Interior decision on the 14-utility power exchange proposal for the Missouri River Basin.

The 14 utilities (including Omaha Public Power District) propose to "firm up" basin plants from 1,250,000 kilowatts to 1,850,000 kilowatts.

USBR allotments are likewise an uncertain factor at this time, Foreman noted.

"It may be of interest that the utility group has steam generation capacity in excess of 4.5 million kilowatts," Foreman said.

"We feel the proposal to firm up the Missouri River Basin plants is a real challenge to the USBR."

"It does contain some items which need to be negotiated and modified somewhat to protect the future of any agreements which the preference customers may have with the USBR."

Medical Assn. To Push
Kerr-Mills Participation

By GENE BUDIG
Star Staff Writer

The Nebraska State Medical Assn. will actively work for passage of legislation by the 1963 Legislature to allow state participation in the Kerr-Mills Act.

Its president, Dr. O. A. Kostal of Hastings said Tuesday: "We will discuss and explain the possible significance of such a measure with the state legislators."

Here for the 94th annual NSMA session, Dr. Kostal claimed the Kerr-Mills legislation would "more than meet the needs of those persons who become medically indigent."

The 1961 Legislature ousted the measure (LB642) on a 23-20 vote.

If enacted, the bill would have made the state eligible for an estimated $2.5 million in federal funds per biennium.

Cost $1.9 Million
Cost to the state was pegged at $1.9 million every two years.

Hospital and surgical benefits under the act would have been provided to persons over 65 whose incomes do not exceed $125 a month per individual, or $175 monthly for a couple.

Testimony at the time indicated there were approximately 17,000 persons in Nebraska over 65 who can meet ordinary needs, but who would be severely pressed financially in the event of a medical emergency.

Sen. Sam Klaver of Omaha said the bill provided the least that could be offered under the program and still

-BLOODLESS-
German
Tiff Hard
On Ears

Berlin (P)—Loudspeakers bawled across the Berlin Wall in rival May Day celebrations Tuesday. It was bloodless, but hard on the ears.

East Germany's communist regime mobilized a battery of 67 loudspeakers, mounted on 11 trucks, in an effort to drown the voices of Western leaders at a rally of about 700,000 West Berliners within shouting distance of the wall.

The West produced 6 smaller loudspeaker trucks, which zeroed in on the East Germans during pauses in the interference efforts.

Among Targets

Gen. Lucius D. Clay, who is retiring as President Kennedy's special representative in Berlin; President Heinrich Lübke of West Germany, and Mayor Willy Brandt of West Berlin were among the targets of the communist cacophony.

They addressed a traditional May Day rally in the Platz Der Republik, in front of the old Reichstag building.

The loudspeakers were irritating, but failed to prevent them from making themselves heard in the West. The devices were turned on full volume when Lübke began to speak. March music and songs by massed choirs blared out, hideously distorted.

Lübke had to pause only when the West Berliners let off boos and whistles at the communist action.

Lübke said what Clay has done for Berlin will never be forgotten. He has always been "a valued and true friend," the white-haired president said.

Clay told the Berliners they have proved that "a free people determined to be free cannot be frightened by intimidation and threat and in doing so you have won the support and respect of the entire free world."

No Brutality To
2 Sergeants Held
Viet Nam Captives

Tell Of Carrying Sgt. Marchand, Nebraska,
And Gabriel Till Ordered To Drop Them

Saigon, South Viet Nam (P)—Two young U.S. Army sergeants released by communist guerrillas after 22 days of captivity said Tuesday night they were kept bound the entire time, but that their captors fed them rice and showed no brutality.

The men, Francis Quinn of Niagara Falls, N.Y., and George E. Groom of St. Joseph, Mo., looked tied, but otherwise healthy and unharmed when they stepped from the plane that brought them to Saigon.

They told debriefing officers they had been held throughout their captivity on a mountain near where they were caught April 8. They denied rumors that they had been led through villages and exhibited for propaganda purposes.

Near Ambush Spot
Quinn and Groom were released less than 5 miles from the coastal town of Da Nang where they were ambushed April 8 with two other American soldiers and 31 Vietnamese trainees.

The other Americans, Sgt. Wayne E. Marchand of Plattsmouth, Neb., and Spec. 5 James Gabriel of Honolulu, did not survive. They were wounded and their bodies later found less than two miles from the scene of the fight.

Both Quinn and Groom were shielded from newsmen, but in relating their ordeal to debriefing officers they told of carrying their wounded comrades for over a mile until the Viet Cong guerrillas ordered them to put them down. Quinn and Groom said they did not witness the final moments of the injured men.

The two men said their captors fed them rice several times a day. Doctors pronounced the two in good condition and said they would be ready for duty after a few days of rest.

The sergeants said the communists gave no reason for freeing them, causing speculation it may have been done as a May Day gesture.

They said that after their release it took two and a half hours to make their way down from the mountaintop on which they had been held. They were guided by a mountaineer working for the Viet Cong.

They reached a group of villagers who led them to a local civil guard post and from there they were evacuated by helicopter to Da Nang, near where the ambush had occurred. From there they were flown to Saigon.

Quinn and Groom were clean shaven when they arrived and wearing the camouflage uniforms and berets of the Army special forces to which they belong.

First Released Alive
The two were the first American captives of the Viet Cong released alive. Another soldier, Spec. 4 George F. Fryett Jr., disappeared from Saigon last Christmas and has not been heard from since.

Episcopal Bishop Harry S. Kennedy of Honolulu said last Thursday he heard a report on a tour of the north area of South Viet Nam with Harkins that two American soldiers captured by the guerrillas had been paraded through villages for propaganda purposes.

A one-car crash Tuesday night on the Interstate Highway one mile east of Gretna took the life of the driver whom the Safety Patrol said was identified as Arthur L. Roth, 29, of 2711 So. 20th in Omaha.

The car Roth was driving was westbound on the superhighway when it left the highway and struck a bridge abutment. The driver was killed instantly, the patrol said.

The car was registered to the Lincoln address of 7133 Morton.

The death was the 86th on Nebraska highways this year, compared to 96 on the same date last year.

Ross Presents
'Added Facts'

... CHALLENGES MORRISON

By BETTY PERSON
Star Staff Writer

Republican National Committeeman Donald R. Ross Tuesday night called again upon Gov. Frank Morrison to "disclose the source" of $3,500 used to pay back a bank loan, or "explain why he allowed $3,500 of unidentified cash to be paid on his note at the bank by a Statehouse employee."

Ross, who disclosed earlier this week that Morrison had obtained a $4,000 loan from a Lincoln bank Oct. 31, 1960—co-signed by the late Al Scissors, then director of Motor Vehicles—issued a new statement Tuesday with 4 "additional facts" concerning the note.

Morrison had answered the earlier statement saying he obtained the loan at the suggestion of his campaign committee of which Scissors was a member, that a "major portion of the proceeds was used for a public purpose (his expenses as governor-elect)", and that he saw no irregularity in the matter.

"Because of this latest claim (public purpose)," Ross said Tuesday night, "the Republican party feels it must point out these additional facts:

"1. The money was borrowed prior to the election at a time when Mr. Morrison did not know he would need any interim travel funds, and about one-half of the fund was used for campaign purposes.

"2. The decision to use the balance of the fund in this manner was made after the election.

"3. In a recent speech in Omaha, Morrison claimed to have paid the interim expenses himself.

"4. On August 2, 1961, 9 months after the loan was made, the governor wrote a letter in which he referred to the last renewal note, co-signed by the late Al Scissors, as a campaign donation in these words: 'He had a note for $500 at the ... bank which he signed with me as a donation to my campaign. ... This was a donation to my campaign ...'

Ross said, "This letter has been shown to the press, but the balance of its contents will not be released unless they are released by the governor."

"This should be conclusive proof that even the governor considered this a sizeable campaign donation by a Statehouse employee," Ross continued.

Informed of Ross' latest statement, Morrison said, "There's absolutely nothing unethical and he doesn't charge there's anything unethical. If he was sincere, he would have appeared and faced me at the (Monday morning) press conference (at which Morrison requested Ross' appearance).

"Until he and his candidate come forth with evidence to support the only unethical charge made—that I 'coerced' state employees to make political contributions—nobody in the state of Nebraska can have any faith in any position taken by him or his candidate," Morrison said.

In his statement Tuesday night, Ross said Morrison "has admitted" allowing a state employee to sign a $4,000 note with him and that the proceeds went into his campaign fund.

"Three thousand, 500 dollars of this note was paid off in cash, not checks, provided by that same state employee and the governor now claims he doesn't know the source of this money," Ross continued.

"In the meantime, that state employee signed at least two renewal notes, in lesser sums, after he had been reappointed by the governor. All this was done with the governor's knowledge and consent.

"It is inconceivable that the governor would consider this proper, but it is not my duty to pass judgment on the propriety of this use of a Statehouse employee," Ross continued.

"This judgment will be made by the people of Nebraska in this year's election. But they should make that judgment on the basis of the facts, not obscured by the governor's smokescreens of ultimatums and claims of the so-called 'public purpose' of the $4,000 fund," Ross concluded.

DEADLINE
EXTENDED

Gov. Frank Morrison Tuesday extended until Wednesday morning his deadline for Fred Seaton to meet his demand for information concerning alleged campaign contributions by state employees. See story, Page 5.

C&O Wins Initial Control Of B&O

Major Step Taken In Rail Mergers

Approval Is Given By ICC Examiner

By JERRY T. BAULCH

Washington (P) — A two-year-old bid by the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway to gain control of the Baltimore & Ohio — the nation's oldest common carrier — won approval Tuesday of an Interstate Commerce Commission hearing examiner.

It was a major step in the nationwide trend toward merger of railroads — a pattern that in the East has developed toward a system of 3 big lines.

The C&O take over of the B&O through an exchange of stock would be a first step toward an eventual merger. However, both railroads would maintain separate identities and, to a large extent, separate organizations.

Termed "Consistent" ICC Examiner John L. Bradford said the proposal is "consistent with the public interest."

But Bradford said "a substantial number" of employees of both railroads would be affected adversely. This can be expected to bring opposition from the railroad unions, despite proposed dismissal indemnity.

And the Justice Department, which has opposed this and several other such mergers, is expected to ask the full ICC to reject the hearing examiner's recommendation.

Exchange Outlined
Bradford recommended that the C&O be allowed to issue up to 2,055,398 shares of common stock, par value $25 a share, in exchange for B&O's outstanding common and preferred stocks, par value $100 a share. This is the number estimated by C&O as necessary to acquire all common and preferred B&O stock.

President, AMA Get Nowhere

...In Medicare Visit

Washington (P) — President Kennedy and the American Medical Association restated their opposing positions on medical care for the aged at a White House conference Tuesday with no agreement in sight.

Afterward Dr. Leonard Larson, AMA president, told reporters there was no switch of views, no compromise suggested or reached and no evidence of possible accommodation.

Larson, 6 other AMA executives and Secretary of Welfare Abraham Ribicoff met with Kennedy less than an hour at a meeting Ribicoff said was called on the initiative of the President.

Larson said the discussion touched on numerous national health issues, including drug legislation, physical fitness, mass vaccinations and immunization. But the main issue was the administration's medicare plan under Social Security, now awaiting action in Congress.

Larson, reaffirming the AMA's objections, said more and more people, including elderly citizens, are switching from support to opposition.

Ronin, Weaver List Donations

Bennett Martin, treasurer of the Phil Weaver Club, reported to the Secretary of State Tuesday the receipt of campaign contributions — in amounts of $25 or more — of $4,825.

Rep. Phil Weaver seeks Republican renomination to Congress in the First District.

Byron Dunn, treasurer of the campaign committee for Herbert A. Ronin, reported campaign contributions in amounts of less than $25 totaling $3,956 and expenditures, largely for printing, of $2,239.

Another report, from treasurer Frank L. Burbridge of the Herbert A. Ronin for Chief Justice Committee for Douglas County, reported receipts of $700 and expenditures of $700.

May Day On Tame Side

By The Associated Press

Leftist snake-dancing students and police fought in Tokyo in the annual observance of May Day. Moscow's Red Square, for decades the center of the stage on the international Labor Day observed in nearly all industrial nations except the United States and Canada, was swept by heavy rain that dulled the usual glitter of the parade.

Millions in the East communist capitals of Red China, North Korea and North Vietnam celebrated with rallies, speeches, athletic meets and outings.

Peiping Radio said hundreds of thousands in the Red Chinese capital milled before huge portraits of Stalin, Marx, Engels, Lenin and Mao Tse-tung, beating drums, carrying flags and flowers and demanding the liberation of Formosa. Mao attended the climax of the celebration in Peiping when one million persons gathered for a huge carnival and fireworks display.

Fireworks In Cuba

In Fidel Castro's Cuba the celebration began at midnight with explosions of fireworks. Factory whistles, ships' horns and loudspeakers raised a bedlam early in the morning to get out thousands of straw-hatted workers for a giant parade in Jose Marti Plaza. The demonstration before a giant dove of peace and was non-military.

Despite fears of trouble from resurgent Peronists, Argentina reported the quietest

May Day in 40 years. The armed forces had called out patrol planes and extra troops and police with rifles and submachine guns.

At Vatican City, where the Roman Catholic Church has called for observance on May 1 of the Feast of St. Joseph in honor of the Carpenter of Nazareth, Pope John XXIII received 20,000 in an audience in St. Peter's Basilica. He reminded them that "life without work is insipid."

Cops Fight Gun Battle In Caracas

Caracas, Venezuela (UPI) — Police fought a gun battle Tuesday with communist demonstrators who used the May Day holiday to spread anti-government terrorism.

Hundreds of rounds of sub-machine gun, rifle and pistol shots were exchanged in a low-income housing area. Casualties were reported on both sides.

Refused permission to demonstrate at the national pantheon, communists and leftists ran wild throughout the city. They burned at least 10 cars and a bus in hit-run raids, and stoned other vehicles.

MERIT PLAN FOR JUDGES LAW DAY DISCUSSION TOPIC

The pros and cons of the proposed merit plan for the selection of Nebraska judges were presented Tuesday as part of law day at the University of Nebraska's College of Law.

A constitutional amendment embracing the merit plan will be put to a vote of Nebraskans next November.

The plan calls for the appointment of Nebraska judges by the governor from at least two nominees, selected by a 7-man nominating commission.

Herman Ginsburg of Lincoln, chairman of the House of Delegates of the State Bar Association, said the opposition calls the merit plan undemocratic.

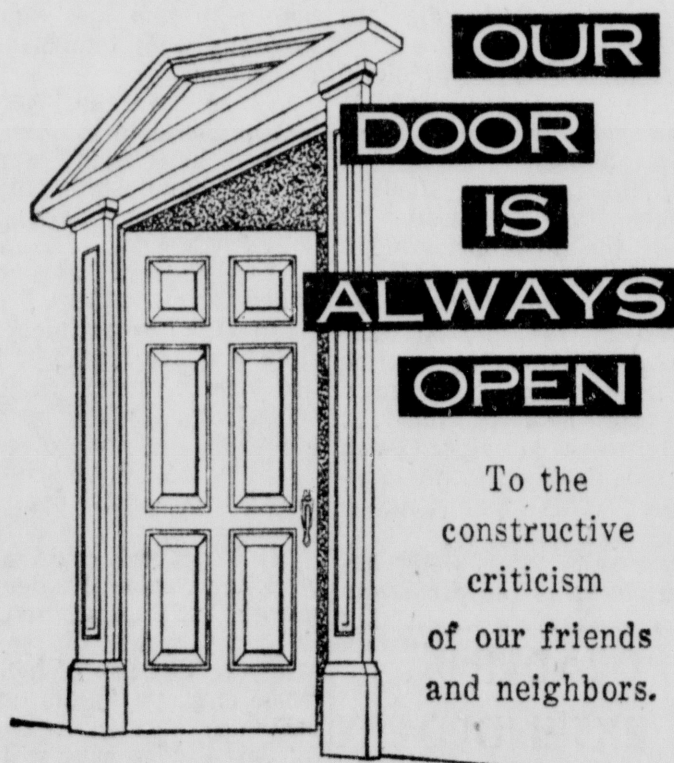

"The judges are servants of the people just as any other public officials and should be elected in the same manner as other public officials," he said.

Flavel Wright of Lincoln, past president of the Nebraska Bar Association, denied that the plan is undemocratic.

"The democratic theory of government," he said, "has always recognized that officers whose work requires technical background should be appointed rather than selected by popular election and that judges in particular should not be selected by popular election."

Rather than being servants of the people, judges are servants of the law and justice, and often must make decisions which protect minority groups and the weak without regard to the popularity or unpopularity of the decision with the majority of voters.

Board Asks Extension; Runway Time Runs Out

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

The Airport Authority has requested a time extension to May 15 for submitting a $2.6 million "project application" for the Lincoln Municipal Airport second runway and expansion program, The Star learned Tuesday.

Executive Director Rolland Harr said the extension of an April 30 deadline by the Federal Aviation Agency (FAA) was requested through the State Aeronautics Department.

Last week, Chauncey Barney, the Authority's attorney, advised the City Council that the project application "must and will be signed by April 30."

Costs Not in

Harr said additional time was requested because it's "physically impossible to get the Union Pacific and Burlington costs estimates for moving their tracks signed up before then (May 15)."

"The FAA wants the railroad agreements in final form before the project application is submitted," he added.

Chairman Leo Beck Jr. said the Authority board "may authorize the signing of the project application at its regular May 8 meeting."

"We may be able to do it then, if everything is ready, or else we'll have to hold a special meeting later," he explained.

Harr said the $1.3 million "grant agreement" with the FAA must be signed by the Authority prior to June 30.

The grant agreement "finalizes" the amount of federal aid, Harr explained. "If actual costs, based on construction bids or other agreements, are higher than estimates, the federal grant can be adjusted accordingly before signing the agreement, but not after it is signed."

Harr said the Authority is "working against some real tight deadlines."

Meanwhile, a proposed zoning code amendment authorizing a special permit for locating the Abel Construction Company's railroad unloading and storage yard on an 8.8-acre tract near the airport access road and Hwys. 2-34 will be reviewed by the City-County Planning Commission at its regular May 9 meeting.

The code amendment, suggested by the City Council, must be reported on by the planning commission before the council can act.

Allows Industry

The code amendment proposes that a special permit may be granted for a 6-year period, but not renewed, for the batching of concrete materials, stockpiling of materials used in such operation and installation of necessary equipment and machinery in

Fees Eyed To Inspect Swim Pools

The City-County Health Board will consider establishing fees for inspection of swimming pools at its June meeting.

The matter came up at the board's Tuesday night meeting after members approved hiring Kenneth Mattheis, a sanitarian and University of Nebraska graduate student, as summer swimming pool inspector. He began work Tuesday.

Health Director Dr. George Underwood noted that Mattheis has inspected Lincoln's public, neighborhood and private public-use pools for the past 3 years. Dr. Underwood said annual problems crop up because of personnel turnover.

No Fees In Past

In the past, the board was told, no fees have been imposed for swimming pool inspection. Board member Mrs. Helen Boosalis, a city councilwoman, proposed that fees be considered.

The board also heard a report on urban planning for environmental health from Lester A. Sanger, director of the city-county division of environmental health. He returned recently from a two-week course at the Robert A. Taft Sanitary Engineering Center in Cincinnati, Ohio.

"rural and public use districts."

Abel has proposed relocation of its material storage yard from a 14-acre tract in the path of municipal airport construction to the 8.8-acre tract for $125,000 if a special use permit is approved by the city.

The company has said it will seek $165,000 if a condemnation action is instituted by the Authority or it is forced to locate elsewhere than the proposed 8.8-acre tract near the airport access road.

In Violation

The city attorney's office has advised the council that Abel's present use of the 14-acre tract, proposed for acquisition in airport expansion, violates the city's zoning code.

However, an Abel attorney has said the company will resist any attempt to have use of the property declared illegal.

They were on their way to Creighton to join Mrs. Morris for the observance of the 25th wedding anniversary of Mrs. Morris' sister, Mrs. George Nielsen.

Mrs. Morris returned to Minden Sunday night and has been under a physician's care.

Two-House Plague

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

With the dust now settling a little on the question of Gov. Frank Morrison's campaign contributions, what is the likely attitude of the voter? If the voter has any gumption at all to him, he is likely to have the despairing attitude of a plague on both your houses. The houses would be those of both candidates for governor. Where campaign expenses come from is a legitimate question but when it is the biggest thing the candidates have talked about, it is a little shocking.

Obviously, Governor Morrison had contributed to him, in his last campaign, funds originating from an unknown source. This seems a little unusual since the funds in question totaled at least $3,500 in cash. Nor does it appear that the contributions were ever reported as the law requires. Apparently, too, some of them were collected from Statehouse employees and all of them were solicited by a Statehouse employee, the late Alvin Scissors, formerly director of the Department of Motor Vehicles. It appears further as though the governor still does object to campaign contributions from state employees.

The governor does put his foot down against the solicitation of such employees. The big question here is how one distinguishes between voluntary and involuntary contributions. If employees in general are contributing, how free to decline are those who don't wish to make a contribution? The governor may be sincere in this but what about those who make the collections?

All in all, the question of contributions in his last and his present campaign has an element of legitimacy or relevancy. But the disturbing part of it is that this gets nothing done for the state of Nebraska. With all the vast multitude of problems facing the state, it seems pathetic that this should be the major thing to date to be discussed by GOP candidate Fred Seaton of Hastings.

The Seaton campaign so far looks exactly like the campaign run two years ago by GOP candidate John Cooper of Humboldt. This is a disturbing surprise to people who expected much more than this from the Hastings publisher. Either he lacks the understanding of the state that we believed he had or he lacks the courage to discuss important issues. Either of these two things is sufficient to dismiss him from consideration by serious voters. His last big issue was a blast against labor and the Washington administration of President John F.

Kennedy. The rest of his party is still harping about Washington despite the fact that Kennedy hasn't a thing to do with the affairs of the state of Nebraska.

It can be freely predicted that unless Seaton and the rest of the GOP change their tune, there is little chance of the Republicans regaining the top Statehouse job. Why in heaven's name does not Seaton spell out those areas of state government where we have been lagging in the past and the thinking that he would apply to them? What does the former secretary of interior intend to do about our snail's pace in highway construction, about state aid to education, about furthering the programs of the University of Nebraska, about expanding the State Patrol, about industrial expansion and above all, about taxes?

Governor Morrison has challenged his opponent to discuss the program from the Statehouse for the past two years and Seaton should accept the challenge. Morrison has attempted to direct the state into certain areas, has tried to continue worthwhile programs and has worked diligently at his job but his administration has not been a spectacular one.

On the basis of currently available information, the question of campaign contributions ranks far down the line in comparison to the conduct of other more important state business. Any GOP gains on the subject of campaign contributions will be so small that they will never be noticed, just as will Democratic protestations of piety.

An individual could run for the governor of Nebraska even on the single issue of institutional programing but hardly anything has been heard on this subject. Morrison approved of abandonment of the Board of Control and operations are now progressing adequately under a centralized administrative head. But outside of a change in the method of administration, what progress is being made? None that we can see and the institutions are still getting by on a shoestring and with all sorts of makeshift approaches to problems. Pay at the institutions is notoriously low and physical plants are uniformly inadequate.

If the candidates for governor presented a good choice insofar as all the problems of the state were concerned, then such matters as the propriety of campaign funds would not make such discouraging reading. There is a question of priorities of issues which the GOP has not yet seemed to have considered and which will react against them if no change is made.

Little Real Progress

On Sabre Rattling

The cobblestones of Moscow shook under the weight of marching feet and heavy military vehicles in response to Russia's observance of May Day.

The world got a picture of organized force which seemed to be the chief reliance of a people whose vow it is to prevail through a superior social and economic plan.

The West did not respond with a show of counter strength, although such exists in formidable proportions. It holds that the better way of life is self-proving and that the only lasting good coming from gun barrels is puffed wheat.

On sober reflection this sabre rattling adds up to a few facts. The Reds have strained themselves to prepare for a war they don't dare wage. They have strained themselves to win a reluctant world by persuasion. They have been able to scavenge Cuba, a fraction of Viet Nam. They are continuing to hold by force some of the ground seized in World War II, but against the will of the people. They did not get Egypt, the Near East, Africa or India. The United States has lost nothing it owned, and successfully protects vital weaker areas which desire protection. The Red dream of a monolithic world power expired in a divided group of socialist nations.

The resurgence of Europe and the economic advance of the United States has foreclosed indefinitely the communist world's dream of economic victory.

A cold look at the facts indicates a strong balance sheet in favor of the West. Moscow parades to the contrary notwithstanding.

Where The Roads Lead

The city's application for inclusion of the proposed K Street connection to West O in both the federal and state system of highways presents an interesting dilemma. The construction involved is within the corporate limits of the city of Lincoln and connects with several major highways. Thus, the question is raised of whose responsibility it is.

The city has argued that it should be on the federal and state system because it is needed as a result of highways converging upon the 9th and O intersection—a congestion that would be substantially relieved with the K Street connection. The state has in the past operated on the premise that it provides the facility for traveling from city to city but that cities must take care of their own internal traffic problems.

In a sense, the city is asking for aid as a result of service provided by the state that the city wants and desires. This may seem strange but there is a community of interest between city and rural traffic that should be recognized. It is not logical to completely divorce the two and have everyone going separate ways.

If we are realistic, we know that travel into and through a city is just as important as travel from city to city. Thus, any highway system which ignores travel within a city's limits is not doing its full job. This fact has not always been recognized, even by some who now favor K Street as a state and federal project, but the compatibility of travel outside of and through a city is a factor that should be recognized by the state in its spending of funds. The K Street program is an integral part of the state and federal highway system and should be so classed.

A Fine May Day

The day after May Day finds us all in good shape with few celebrants paying the price for overdoing it.

In this fair land it was a good day for the children who observe it with that ancient but loveable custom of exchanging May baskets, a wonderful act of good will and generosity in which the spirit of the giver is properly bigger than the intrinsic value of the gift.

It was a good day for the adults, too—better than usual because it coincided with Law Day.

The institution of law is one of the great human treasures which is too much taken for granted by the fortunate people who are its beneficiaries, and too desperately needed by the unfortunate who are doomed to a sorry life because they never had it, or were never able to obtain it.

The men of the law, the philosophers of it, can go on at tremendous length describing and defining its fine points. But for the layman it represents the simple and nobly just principle that the law giver is not himself above the law. If he guides and restrains those who live under the law he is equally willing to be guided and restrained by it. And in this finest of all lands the right to make the law rests with the people. And this is so right because it is the people who pay the full price for every gain and take the punishment for every failure. Since theirs is the ultimate responsibility so theirs also should be the sovereignty.

May Day was also observed in the Communist world. There is no law there as we know it, but rather a master-servant relationship. The law is what the master says it is at any given moment, and whatever it was yesterday is not what it may be today and the people have no recourse against that. Freedom can never exist so long as that relationship obtains.

Seven Ways To Beat Communism

ABOARD THE SS DELTA QUEEN—Being out here on the broad Mississippi River with no telephones, no telegrams, and no distractions is conducive to thinking about the might and majesty of what man has wrought.

This has set me to thinking about the favorite topic of discussion on the part of a great many would-be pilots of the nation recently—our failures to combat communism. They have seen communists behind every bedpost, have predicted the USA was on the way to becoming an arm of the Kremlin, and some have charged that because I listened to and reported the views of Nikita Khrushchev for two days last summer, I am pro-communist.

Having listened carefully to those who would combat communism by preaching hate and voicing suspicion of their fellow Americans, I would like to outline my own seven points for preventing communism. I'll be brief. Here they are:

1. The elimination of poverty—When I get letters from mothers who are struggling to feed their children and whose husbands don't have jobs, I know they and the children they are bringing up could be converts to communism.

2. Honesty—Corruption in high places, and low places too, is another way of inducing communism. A Democratic-Republican form of government must be an honest government. Likewise our capitalist system of business must be honest. Once either loses high ethical standards, then is the time to begin worrying about communism.

3. Respect of government—This goes hand in hand with honesty. If we don't respect our government officials we have the right, by means of the ballot, to change them. But if we lose respect for too many of them we may want to change our system.

4. Respect for religion—Some of those who are beating the tom-toms loudest about the dangers of communism are the Bible-pounding fundamentalist preachers of the extreme right, and one of their stocks in trade is to smear their fellow preachers as communists. The Rev. Billy James Hargis claims that the National Council of Churches "aids and abets communism."

But the more you undermine churches and the more you destroy the influence of religion, the more you aid communism.

5. Equality of opportunity and fair competition—Monopoly is one step that makes it easy for a communist take-over. Communism thrives on monopoly; in fact is monopoly. Under communism the government owns and runs everything. There is no private business or small business.

6. Respect for the dignity of man—The individual isn't important under the communist system. He is subordinated to the state. But under the Judaic-Christian philosophy, the dignity of man is all important—and that is true regardless of his color, his wealth, or his religion.

7. Strength—By this I don't mean merely military and physical strength, though in this day and age they are important. I also mean educational strength, cultural strength, scientific strength, and moral and spiritual strength.

AMA Wants To Talk With JFK

WASHINGTON — The White House says that the delegation from the American Medical Association asked to see President Kennedy. The delegation says its purpose was not discussion of legislation providing medical care for the aged tied to the Social Security program.

The situation in Congress, however, suggests that unless the two forces represented in the conference come to some kind of an agreement, they will get such legislation in a form that may not be to the liking of either one.

This was the position as they met — a congressional majority now wants to go into the fall elections on a record of support for some form of federal aid to meet health care costs for people 65 and over. Its information is that the President is adamant on the central point of the Anderson-King bill, which is the furnishing of the aid through the Social Security system.

It is the view of the Democratic leaders, therefore, that this will be done. While they are not ready to say what other points or techniques are negotiable, they do admit that they expect changes in the legislation which will reach the floor from the House Ways and Means and Senate Finance Committees.

The danger is that in the tense and heated homestretch it will be substantially re-written on the floor. This is what happened when Congress in an election year tizzy passed the Kerr-Mills bills which in effect gave each state a blank check on the federal treasury.

Sen. Clinton P. Anderson of New Mexico, one of the nation's most successful businessmen and former president of Rotary International, told the U.S. Chamber of Commerce now meeting here what happened next. A few samples —

In New York total monthly payments were higher in December, 1961, than in September, 1960, by $4.2 million, with the federal share increasing $3.5 million. In Massachusetts, federal funds involved increased by $1.6 million while state and local expenditures decreased by $1.1 million. Of 29,000 new cases opened in Massachusetts, 63 per cent were transfers from what had previously been a state expense.

Senator Anderson argues that this was a case of the poor states supporting the rich states and that Social Security in contrast was the conservative approach. The chamber sat on its hands. Whether the AMA follows suit remains to be seen.

The senator also contends that the bill proposed by Rep. Frank T. Bow, Ohio Republican, and suddenly backed by Rep. William E. Miller of New York, Republican national chairman, would cost more than the administration measure framed by himself and Rep. Cecil R. King of California. Sen. Jacob K. Javits, New York Republican, also has a version to put before the Senate Finance Committee.

Business Debates JFK's Attitude

WASHINGTON—With varying degrees of dark suspicion members of the business community have been asking: Is the President anti-business?

In his speech to the United States Chamber of Commerce Mr. Kennedy went a long way to try to convince business that he is opposed to controls over prices and wages and that he believes in the freedom of various elements in the economy to reach their own decisions. He urged upon both business and labor the need to act responsibly if the economy is to move forward and the government is to resolve the problem of the continuing outflow of gold and dollars.

But, in the light of historic attitudes deeply rooted in the business mentality, the question is irrelevant and so therefore is the answer. Or, rather, it is one of those self-answering, "Have you stopped beating your wife?" questions.

Traditionally, through the populism of William Jennings Bryan and the Fair Deal of Harry Truman, a Democratic administration has been by definition anti-business, regardless of how business may have prospered under the Democrats. And conversely a Republican administration is taken for granted as pro-business. Calvin Coolidge gave it classic expression in the boom era of the 'twenties when he said:

"The business of government is business."

How infinitely more complex the relationship is today the President made plain as he confronted the Chamber of Commerce in Constitution Hall where only a short time ago the Daughters of the American Revolution had turned a stony face toward the Kennedy administration and all its works. The key to responsibility, in the President's exposition, is the need to stop the continuing outflow of gold and dollars.

As he has done often in the past, the President pointed out the painful choice as his administration sees it. It is to continue to lose gold or to withdraw American defense forces in Europe at the same time the growth rate of the economy increases and with greater efficiency American industry becomes more competitive in the world market. As a stimulus to plant modernization the President held out to the Chamber his proposed eight per cent tax credit, which he said would cost the government $1.8 billion in revenue.

But not everyone agrees with the presidential diagnosis—essentially the diagnosis of a conservative—that incentives to business will give the economy a sufficient stimulus. Over the week end the left-of-center Democratic splinter, Americans for Democratic Action, met in Washington to raise the familiar cry of under-consumption and the need to get more spending power into the pockets of consumers unable to buy the goods industry is currently turning out.

At the same time the President was forecasting to the Chamber record new levels of production — an increase of $50 billion this year—one of his principal economic critics was testifying before the Senate Finance Committee in opposition to the Kennedy business tax credit. Leon Keyserling, an economic consultant who was chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers under President Truman, is perhaps the most articulate spokesman of the theory that you have to prime the consumer with lower income tax rates and prime the economy with more public expenditure.

The President and Keyserling agree on one basic point—the need to stimulate the economy to produce much closer to full capacity. But Keyserling is convinced that this will never happen by priming business with a tax credit. He insists, too, that the whole question of stepping up international trade has been greatly exaggerated as a factor in raising the level of the American economy. To sustain his conviction Keyserling quoted from the McGraw-Hill spring survey of business investment and the comment of the magazine Business Week on the fact that investment falls an estimated $4 billion short of what the government had hoped for in 1962:

"Behind this trend lies the stubborn lag of the spending rate as a percentage of capacity. Most manufacturers today prefer 90 per cent, but at the end of 1961 the actual rate was only 83 per cent of capacity . . . in that context it is easy to see why industry plans to add merely four per cent capacity this year, with another 10 per cent spread over 1963-65 . . . manufacturers' hopes of getting closer to their preferred rate hinges on an increase in sales."

The debate on these matters has been very one-sided. The voices of criticism favoring a liberalized spending and tax policy have scarcely been heard. In terms of the necessity to steer a middle course the President might almost welcome an antidote to the charge of being "anti-business."

Insofar as the terms "liberal" and "conservative" mean anything today, and they mean very little, the President should probably be rated a conservative in his outlook. On taxes, the budget, fiscal responsibility and the problem of the gold outflow his stand surely falls into the conservative category. The course of the economy in the next 12 to 18 months will prove him right or wrong.

Man Of Truth

Lincoln, Neb.
Although a man of Gov. Morrison's character needs no one to defend him, I feel that it is time for some of us who know and respect this man for what he really is to step forward and openly speak our minds.

As a lifelong Republican, Nebraskan and American who is vitally interested in good government, I have made it an avocation to become integrated into the workings of public service and its people.

When Frank Morrison was introduced to me by a mutual friend and I was informed of the fact that he was aspiring to become governor of the state of Nebraska, I spent many hours learning all I could about this man. Once I learned of his ambitions, not for himself but for the people of Nebraska, I found that I had to change my registration to Democrat so that I could actively work for and support a man of his character for any public office he might seek. For here is a man so steeped in the tradition of fair play and honesty in all dealings with his fellow man that he is truly an outstanding representative of the people.

His hopes, desires and ambitions for our state are boundless; his program is one of progress for our state. I would be the first to admit, because of my close association with his work, that he has made mistakes. Everyone who is attempting to gain something for his fellow man is bound to make mistakes along the way. Often times unseen obstacles are placed in the way of a good public official by less scrupulous people to discredit and destroy him in the eyes of the people. This unfortunately is the way some politicians work. They are concerned with themselves, not with the will of the people.

I discredit no past governors; I honestly believe that many of them have tried and have done a creditable job. Disagree, if you like, with Frank Morrison. Say that his program is not good, magnify his human frailties, point out where he has failed and tell us how you would have done differently now that you have had an opportunity to see the results of a well-meant effort that went astray. But do not call him dishonest. I know this man and he is honest. As a matter of fact, he is honest to a point where it has hurt him politically with his own party.

But Frank Morrison, the man, although many may classify him as a politician is not a politician in the unfortunately accepted connotation of the word "politician." He is a man true to the truth, true to his position and true to the people of the state of Nebraska. Say that he has made mistakes, if you like, but don't mistake his motives.

BILL DAVIDSON

Medical Aid

Hastings, Neb.

With the establishment of government hospitals under the Veterans Administration, a course was taken that would in time lead to government hospitalization, medical and surgical care for Americans in general, regardless of their economic and social status.

The opposition to President Kennedy's proposed government medical aid to the aged does not make too much sense. The Nebraska Farm Bureau Federation, the officials of the American Medical Association, and some members of the 87th Congress want Americans to understand that President Kennedy's government medical aid bill for the aged would lead to socialized medicine. But members of the 87th Congress and officials of the NFBF and the AMA are faced by the fact that every government-owned, tax-supported hospital is an attribute of socialized medicine. Yet neither the NFBF nor the AMA has any objection to these government-owned hospitals!

And not even the most conservative member of the 87th Congress would dare to advocate the sale of government hospitals to private interests. And still the so-called conservatives claim to be much interested in getting the government out of competition with private interests.

Perhaps it would not be amiss to ask if it is possible that members of the 87th Congress, the NFBF and the AMA think it is truly American to allow the Veterans Administration to have a monopoly on government hospitalization, medical and surgical care?

Far better for America's health that Americans adopt for the 1960's the slogan, "Equal rights for all," in connection with government hospitalization, medical and surgical care.

Morrison Extends Seaton's 'Deadline' ... WILL CALL AGAIN

By BETTY PERSON
Star Staff Writer

Gov. Frank Morrison has extended until Wednesday morning the deadline he has set for Republican gubernatorial candidate Fred Seaton to meet his request for information concerning campaign contributions by state employees.

Morrison said late Tuesday afternoon he would place a call to Seaton at Hastings at 9 a.m. Wednesday to ask for the names of persons Seaton has charged were "coerced" into making contributions to Morrison's campaign.

The governor attempted to reach Seaton Monday by phone and later called Fred Irons of Hastings, Seaton's campaign manager, requesting that the information be in the Governor's Office by 5 p.m. Tuesday.

Northern Route Rehearing Plea Vote Wednesday

A final decision of Frontier Airlines' request for a rehearing in the case involving the State Railway Commission's order that it give air service to northern Nebraska will probably be ruled on Wednesday, according to Commission Chairman Joseph Brown.

Two of the 3 commissioners said that they are prepared to vote on the request.

The commission is expected to turn down the motion and pave the way for the airlines to submit its appeal to the State Supreme Court.

Frontier was ordered by the commission on April 6 to resume service on Segment 13 of its northern Nebraska route.

The airlines, however, asserts the commission does not have the jurisdiction to issue such an order.

COLUMBUS CALLED REQUIRED FRONTIER STOP

Washington (AP) — Counsel for the Civil Aeronautics Board has recommended that Frontier Airlines be required to serve Columbus, Neb., on its route between Omaha and Denver.

Alexander N. Argerakis, counsel for the CAB's Bureau of Economic Regulation, said in a brief to Examiner Russell A. Potter that air service is required and that the Columbus airport is satisfactory for use by Convair 340 airplanes with reasonable loads.

Argerakis said there was no evidence to support Frontier's assumption that a Columbus stop would involve downgrading of service because of the need to use DC3 planes at that airport.

Frontier has been authorized to serve Columbus on a route to Omaha and Casper, Wyo., but has not done so because, it said, the Columbus airport was inadequate. The airport has recently been improved.

The bureau's brief opposed a proposal that Columbus be placed on the route operated by North Central Airlines north from Omaha into South Dakota and North Dakota.

It also objected to the high cost of a possible Omaha-Columbus shuttle service by North Central, or to a proposal that Columbus and Norfolk be designated as a hyphenated point served by a single airport. The brief said the two towns are so far apart that such a designation would benefit neither.

Stock Market Skids In Face Of Good Business

By JACK LEFLER

New York (AP) — The stock market has been skidding in the face of good business.

Why?

The most educated guess on Wall Street — and that's all it is, a guess — is that investors have become overwhelmed by fear.

One expert called the present situation "a crisis in confidence."

Although there are many opinions, sometimes contradictory, the most common feeling among Wall Streeters is that the investor fears:

—The Kennedy administration is anti-business and that the assault on the steel price increase may be only the beginning.

—Business, good as it is now, won't be so brisk later in the year.

—The cost-price squeeze on industry may damage profits in subsequent quarters.

—There will be a substantial deficit in the federal budget.

—Stock prices are too high.

The market has been reeling since the steel price rollback April 13.

With unloading of stocks increasing, the market, as measured by the popular averages, has sunk to successive lows in the last week.

Wall Street analysts are putting much of the blame on the Kennedy administration's attitude toward business.

But even here many can't agree.

For instance when the market made a short-lived advance Monday morning, one broker, when asked the reason, replied:

"Kennedy's speech."

Another Broker

And when the market turned around and slumped sharply in the afternoon, another broker blamed:

"Kennedy's speech."

In that speech to the U.S. chamber of Commerce, the President said he wanted to see an economy kept stable by the free forces of competition so the government won't need to intervene in price setting.

But many investors apparently felt the President's speech was just another example of "words not deeds" and was far from what business was expecting to restore confidence.

Despite reports of record spending in plant improvement and equipment, many analysts feel that business, in its puzzlement over just what the government will do in any set of circumstances, may cut back on this type of outlay. That would mean fewer jobs and less consumer spending.

With stocks yields relatively low, there is increasing competition for the investor's dollar.

A tremendous amount of money has gone into savings banks, which are offering up to 4½% interest. Bonds, particularly the tax-free variety, are attracting money from stocks.

The big institutions — mutual funds, pension funds and the like are sitting on the sidelines, and their absence from the buying market is being felt sharply. They sold substantial blocks of their holdings, particularly the steels, earlier.

Investors' confidence may have been shaken, too, by the Securities and Exchange Commission's investigation of the entire securities business, Wall Streeters feel.

They almost completely are ignoring favorable economic developments.

Fletcher St. Paving Urged To Increase Industry Lure

Lancaster County Commissioners took no action Tuesday on a request for paving Fletcher St. from 56th to 70th to aid industries already there and to attract new ones to an industrial tract in the area.

Some 20 area landowners and representatives of the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce industrial development committee appeared before the board urging that the 14-block strip be paved.

They emphasized that the project would pay for itself in a short period of time with the increased tax dollars to be derived from new industries which would be attracted to the area by paved access.

W. A. Spitzenberger, spokesman from the Burlington Railroad, pointed out that both sides of the road are being developed for heavy industry.

LIDC President Burnham Yates told the board that in order to attract industry, it is necessary to offer the necessary facilities, in this case, a hard-surfaced road.

James W. Hewitt, representing the Nebraska Prestressed Concrete Co., stated, "this area is going to be caught short if in the next 4 years we have as large a development as in the past 4 years."

County Board Chairman Ralph Harlan pointed out that the road hearing had been held two months ago and the road funds for the year are already designated.

In other action, the board approved the Society of Friends' request to have their meeting house taken off the tax rolls.

The property, located at 3319 So. 46th, had previously been taken off the city tax rolls.

ANSWER by OUR

How can people in low rental properties be provided for under urban renewal relocation without providing either public housing or tax-subsidized rentals?

A prominent spokesman for urban renewal opposition writes, "The danger siren is screaming! Why is he so alarmed?"

No public housing is contemplated in connection with urban renewal in Lincoln. It would, in fact, require a separate vote of the people.

As for the subsidization of rentals, it is possible but highly unlikely. It should be possible to find suitable housing at prices the people can afford to pay.

In any event, the Authority is bound by law to protect the family from having to pay higher rentals.

Marine Changes Boost Lincoln Activity

By DON BRYANT
Star Staff Writer

Reorganization of the U.S. Marine Corps Reserve into the 4th Marine Division, announced Tuesday, increases Marine activity in Lincoln.

Gone will be the 86th Rifle Co., but rising in its place will be an expanded unit which will be designated as the 3rd Engineer Equipment Maintenance Co.

The unit will be the only support element of its type for the 4th Division and there are only 3 like it in the regular Marine Corps now.

The new Lincoln unit will require more land for training purposes and several new maintenance buildings are expected to be constructed.

Among the equipment—valued at more than $1 million—that will be assigned to the new unit are such things as machine shop trailers, heavy hauling equipment, boom cranes, bulldozers and graders.

In addition, the unit will be trained to handle all refrigeration and electrical maintenance services for the division.

The 86th Infantry Co., is located at the Naval Training Center on North 10th Street and is commanded by Capt. James F. Garvin.

Maj. James F. Roberts, commanding officer of the regular Marine detachment at the installation, explained that the 86th "definitely will be retrained, not disbanded or transferred elsewhere."

"The present unit will be used as a nucleus for the proposed expansion," he explained.

Maj. Roberts reported the new unit will have a complement of about 180 men and 8 officers, or double the size of the 86th's enlisted personnel.

"The inspector-instructor staff will also be increased," Major Roberts said. "This means there will be more regular Marines assigned to Lincoln, in addition to the expanded Reserve unit."

Explaining the proposed table of organization, Maj. Roberts said the new unit would have a headquarters section, service and supply section, and 3 engineer equipment maintenance and repair platoons.

"All of the men will be trained in engineering fields, which means there will be a lot more rank available than in an infantry unit," Maj. Roberts said. "This also means valuable training opportunities for the men in this area."

Among the fields of specialization that will be utilized in the new company are metal smith, refrigeration mechanics, automotive mechanics, electrical engineering and engineering supply.

Mayor Boyles: Reorganization Is 'Good News'

Mayor Bartlett E. (Pat) Boyles Tuesday termed the announced reorganization and expansion of the local Marine Reserve unit "good news for Lincoln."

"There will be increased Marine activity in this area and there is the likelihood of further capital investment by the Marines here. This certainly is good news for Lincoln," he said.

George Cook, president of the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce said:

"This will give Lincoln a highly specialized vocational training center which could well be an extension of the technical training offered in Lincoln area high schools and the Milford trade school."

No Active Duty Implication In Change—Roberts

Announcement that the U.S. Marine Corps is reorganizing its Reserve forces into the 4th Marine Division does not imply that the reserves will be called into active duty.

This was pointed out by Maj. J. F. Roberts, commanding officer of the Marine Detachment at the U.S. Naval Training Center here.

"The Marine Corps is simply modernizing its Reserve for more effective service," Maj. Roberts said. "This is not being done because of a planned call-up of Reserves, but to insure an orderly and effective mobilization if and when the need ever arises."

"One of the reasons for the reorganization is to prevent some of the trouble that occurred in 1950 when the Reserve was mobilized," Maj. Roberts said. "At that time Reserves were called up as units, then reassigned to other outfits. This, of course, created some confusion and lack of immediate effectiveness, a situation no longer practical because of the quickness with which trouble can start."

Mrs. Sandra McCrey of Friend was listed in fairly good condition at St. Elizabeth Hospital late Tuesday suffering possible back injuries after a one-car accident near Friend.

Mrs. McCrey was a passenger in a car driven by her brother-in-law, Leslie McCrey of Lincoln Air Force Base.

McCrey said dirt from recent road-grading was piled along the center of the road and he lost control of his car trying to cross the piled dirt.

Fraternity Works Round The Clock At Painting Job

Kappa Sigma fraternity at the University of Nebraska began a marathon paint job at 5 Lincoln institutions Tuesday evening.

Working in two-man shifts of 3 hours each, 83 fraternity members will work round the clock through Saturday painting rooms and facilities at the Salvation Army, Mt. Zion Baptist Church and parsonage, Southwest Community Center, LARC School, and Belmont Community Center.

Larry Long of Madison, chairman of the operation, said the fraternity would work 24 hours a day to finish as quickly as possible. The various agencies supply the paint and equipment.

Drinking Driver Rated No. 1 Traffic Problem

"The number one traffic problem is the drinking driver. The driver under the influence of alcohol is involved in 50 to 80% of all fatal and injury-producing motor accidents," Dr. Horace E. Campbell of Denver said Tuesday.

Addressing the Alcoholism Committee of the Lincoln Community Council, Dr. Campbell said 100,000 Americans are permanently disabled and about 1.25 million people have been killed this way since 1900.

In 1926, Norway established the most realistic definition of "under the influence," he said. A person with .05% alcohol in the blood is "under the influence." Police and doctors in Norway have legal authority to obtain objective evidence of influence and a person convicted loses his driver's license a year and goes to jail at least 21 days. The accepted figure in the U.S. is .25%.

Another serious problem is the chronic alcoholic, he said. "The chronic drinker is immune to slogans and safety campaigns because he is a compulsive drinker."

Education and legislation are two ways of action, Dr. Campbell said. "We need laws of the implied consent type. Next, we need laws in every state to reduce the legal level from .15% to .10% with a goal of .05%."

He said repeaters should be sentenced to adequate treatment, rather than jail or another fine.

The afternoon in Madrid was sunny as payday in the Army. I went over to Mr. Hertz's famous organization—like Swedish matches and Scottish engineers, you find Hertz in rare corners of the world.

I rented a little French Renault about the size of a bathtub.

"Because it is the Holy Week," the Hertz man explained.

"The big cars are more holy?" (I wanted to go to Toledo with Mr. Charles Mapes of Reno. He goes 6 feet 5 and 250 pounds. I figured I could get him in the Renault. But could I get the door shut?)

"In Holy Week many people come and rent the cars. For that and the happy fair afterward in Seville. Mainly rich Americans rent them," said the Hertz man accusingly.

I tried to look like a poor American and drove away in the sunshine.

The next day it was raining buckets. It did not fall mainly on the plain. It fell mainly on Charlie and me and the Renault.

The road to Toledo crosses the La Mancha plain (where the rain also fell on Don Quixote).

It is pretty near the geographical center of Spain—there is a monument at the exact spot.

At the end of the 35-mile ride, the road rises to the old walled town of Toledo. City of the Moors, Caesar's legions camped on the hillsides.

Toledo is famous for the damascene inlay on steel. The Moors brought it from Damascus and brought it to perfection in their 700 years in Spain.

The slightly curved sword that reaches the bull's heart is made in Toledo.

To own a Toledo blade was the ambition of duellists of the Renaissance.

Boarding parties of the Caribbean carried Toledo cutlasses.

And kingly swords of State are still made behind the Moorish gates.

The work is richly Oriental—gold and bright enamel encrusting the steel.

We had lunch at Venta de Aires, just outside the walls. Rain streamed down the window panes. However, the Spanish lamb was well garlicked. The white wine of Toledo is dry and is always drawn from sacks into decorated carafes. The first wild strawberries were in from Aranjuez on the Tagus river.

Like all Spanish waiters, ours wore a tailcoat and wing collar.

It gives a certain stylishness to the meal.

The workshops for Toledo ware lie just across the road. We sloshed over and watched the workmen lay gold thread into microscopic grooves—in earrings, bracelets, sword handles and, if you like, Gillette razors.

The girl guide said that the work is handed down from family to family.

Boys start young.

"It is too hard to learn if you are old."

There are two classes of work: the easier kind is done by novices; the delicate work is done by the master craftsmen.

"When they start young, they learn to be maestros when they are older," she said. We tried to look younger—young enough to learn to lay gold into a razor. But it is difficult when you are soaking wet.

It was raining on the plains of Spain all the way to Madrid. I turned in the Renault and told them they could rent it to a rich and dry American.

And the next morning, the warm Spanish sun flooded all Madrid with golden light.

There hasn't been a cloud in the sky since.

Fight The 'Big Lie' Urges Dr. Chase

To protect the innocent we must sometimes protect the guilty.

This was the point hammered home Tuesday by a University of Minnesota political science professor, Dr. Harold W. Chase, in a speech in Lincoln.

The issue, he made clear, is not between anti-Communists and those "soft on communism," for there has never been a large, influential U.S. group soft on communism.

Instead, the issue is over the means for combatting Communists as well as other extremists. The mistaken interpretation has sometimes been made, he said, that those who are for free speech are "soft on communism."

"The only way a people can remain free is by extending freedom to those we don't like as well as for ourselves," Dr. Chase insisted.

Defines Extremes

He defined political extremists as Communists on the left and the John Birch Society on the right. In a broad middle, he included both Sen. Barry Goldwater and Sen. Hubert Humphrey.

Extremists are those unwilling to play within the democratic framework, he said.

The best way to deal with both extremes, Dr. Chase, a Marine Corps reserve officer, suggested, is for "someone to start making a case for freedom."

"It isn't enough to take for granted that everyone understands the (Constitutional) freedoms — every generation has to start learning it again," he said.

Lax in Fighting Back

He said Americans had been negligent in countering the lies of extremists.

"We ought to nail the big lie for what it is when it rears its ugly head," the Princeton-trained professor said, citing repeatedly false charges that high government officials are Communists.

"The idea 'Where there's smoke there's fire' ought to be erased from our vocabulary," he said.

We understand Communist objectives, he said, but "I think we've missed the boat in seeing the objectives of those on the far right."

300,000 Far Rightists

Communists are "pretty well contained domestically," having only 10,000, he said. There are 300,000 persons in far right groups, he estimated.

The chief danger from the right, he said, was that of intimidation.

We must keep our tempers, not be panicked into intemperate action, and not join in volunteer groups "going around routing out Communists and subversives with meat cleavers," he advised.

He suggested to the audience of university extension administrators, in their 3rd day of conferences at the Nebraska Center, that they were in a unique position to transmit the values of freedom to the society.

Advisory Unit Urges Taft-Hartley Law Changes

Washington (AP)—President Kennedy's Labor-Management Advisory Committee Tuesday recommended broad revision of the Taft-Hartley law procedures for handling emergency strikes, including powers to recommend settlement terms.

The report was nearly unanimous among the industry, labor and public members composing the committee. Henry Ford II, head of the auto firm bearing his name, objected to most of the proposed changes, saying "the present national emergency provisions have had remarkable success in fulfilling their intended purpose."

Changes were proposed in the present 80-day injunction provisions of the law. The president, instead, would be authorized to direct the parties involved to continue or resume operations in whole or, to the extent practicable, in part for periods up to 80 days.

—POLL CHEERS GOP—
Rocky Still Popular Despite His Divorce

Washington (AP) — Republicans took cheer Tuesday that a party poll showing Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller retains most of his political popularity despite his divorce.

Since the governor's 31-year marriage ended in a Reno, Nev., divorce court last March, Republicans have wondered what the effect would be on the political fortunes of the man who might become their 1964 presidential nominee.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., reported Tuesday that a party poll indicates Rockefeller lost only 2% of the popularity a similar survey credited to him in 1961, and his divorce plans became known.

Javits, who is seeking reelection on the ticket Rockefeller will head, said in an interview his own observations in campaigning throughout New York state coincide with the poll findings.

The GOP survey, made by a New York City advertising Agency, did not match Rockefeller against any Democrat. It found that 35% of the persons asked would vote for the governor and 23% against, with the remainder undecided. This represented a 2-point drop in popularity since the 1961 survey.

Republicans were pleased to match this against a recent Democratic state poll which indicated Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York City was favored by 43% of the voters, Rockefeller 41% and 16% undecided.

Wagner announced last Saturday he would not be a candidate for the Democratic nomination to contest Rockefeller in November. He added he wouldn't allow himself to be drafted.

GOP National Chairman William E. Miller has contended Wagner will get in the race if President Kennedy tells him to do so. He said Kennedy places great importance on the effect of this year's New York vote on 1964.

The Republican poll was interpreted by some party members as indicating that Rockefeller stands a chance of getting more than the 53.9% of the vote by which he was elected in 1958. He won then by a margin of 573,000 votes.

This obviously would depend to some extent on the man the Democrats finally come up with to oppose him.

consideration in framing proposals for Congress.

Goldberg said he could not say whether Kennedy's recommendations will follow those in Tuesday's report or when Kennedy may submit his proposals to Congress.

The Labor Management Advisory Committee decided to put over for further study industry contentions that some labor unions have developed monopoly power that should be curbed by a legal ban against industry-wide bargaining. The issue provoked hot argument in the committee.

Later Report
The committee, however, decided that it will make this matter the subject of a subsequent report.

The President met with his advisory committee for nearly an hour in discussing the report. Kennedy issued a statement that the committee's unanimous agreement that collective bargaining is "an essential element of economic democracy is a mark of our progress as a nation when contrasted with the disagreements on this subject in the not-too-distant past . . .

"To be free, collective bargaining must be responsible; so long as collective bargaining is responsible, it will always be free."

August Bride-Elect

MISS BARBARA COOPER

This morning Mr. and Mrs. Herbert L. Cooper, Jr., make announcement of the engagement of their daughter, Barbara, to Jeffrey Lee Orr, son of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Orr of North Platte.

The wedding is planned for August.

Miss Cooper is attending the University of Nebraska.

Mr. Orr also is a student at the University of Nebraska where he is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity.

Luncheon Courtesy

Approximately 130 members of the Nebraska State Dental Society Auxiliary attended the 30th annual state meeting in Omaha, and following a luncheon on Tuesday at the Athletic Club, installed new officers for the coming year.

President will be Mrs. Edward S. Mathers of Lincoln, and others named are Mrs. Lyle Furst, York; president-elect; Mrs. Donald K. Phillips, Nebraska City, recording secretary; Mrs. Martin P. Curnyn, Omaha, treasurer; Mrs. Donald Edwards, Lincoln, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Frank J. Dowd, Omaha, historian.

During the meeting, the auxiliary voted to contribute to LARC School in Lincoln, and the Children's Memorial Hospital in Omaha.

The meeting closed Tuesday evening with a punch party at the Sheraton-Fontenelle Hotel.

Members of the Lincoln and Omaha Alliances of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity met for luncheon on Monday at the Student Union to honor Mrs. Lee Minier, who is retiring after serving 25 years as housemother for the fraternity on the University of Nebraska campus.

In Suburbia

Today, news from suburbia is very plentiful, and includes travelers who have returned from vacations, newcomers to the suburb, and the bride fans are busy once again.

CLIFFORD PLACE

Leaving Lincoln last Friday for Greenham Commons, England, was Mrs. Raymond L. Pickles, who has been the houseguest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fitzwater for some time. Mrs. Pickles flew to England to join her husband, S.Sgt. Pickles, who is stationed in Greenham Commons, about 50 miles from London. They will live in England for two years before returning to the United States.

Prior to Mrs. Pickles' departure from Lincoln, she spent 10 days in Salt Lake City visiting her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Nielson and their children, Ricky and Kevin.

BERLENE HEIGHTS

Understand that there are new residents at 4324 D. Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Ahlschwe and their two year-old daughter, Kylie. The Ahlschwedes moved to Berlene Heights on Saturday, April 7, from their former address, 1938 F.

COTNER TERRACE

We learned that Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hoch and their daughter, Vicki, have returned from a month's vacation in Glen Campbell, Pa., where they visited Mr. Hoch's mother, Mrs. A. G. Lamkie, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Max Hoch. An interesting highlight of their trip was a tour of the Civil War battle-grounds at Gettysburg, Pa.

And in case you have been wondering who the new resident at 6931 Benton is, we will introduce you—William C. Grant, who moved to Lincoln from Raymond last month.

PERSHING HEIGHTS

Word this morning from the home of Dr. and Mrs. William W. Mountcastle brings the news of an addition to the family. Eric Dean Mountcastle, who arrived at Lincoln General Hospital on Friday, April 27, has two sisters, Christine and Susan, and a brother, Gregory.

The young gentleman's maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Warner of Whittier, Calif., and his paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. W. Wallace Mountcastle of Miami, Fla.

On the bridge scene we learned that Mr. and Mrs. Leon E. Overbeck will be host and hostess at their home Friday evening to their bridge group.

Defeat Enemy—Excess Pounds

Josephine Lowman

At this time of year the letters I receive bear a striking similarity. Here are excerpts from a few.

"Help! Summer is almost here again and I am desperate! Last year I went swimming only three times, and was miserable then because of my figure. I swore I would not go through another summer like that because I love to swim and miss a lot of fun."

"I am not terribly overweight, but these extra 10 pounds make me feel very self-conscious and change my figure completely. Please come to my rescue because it's later than I thought."

"I have eight pounds too much which has been hanging around for years. I am especially conscious of it in the summer. In the first place, it is uncomfortable and then, too, the light colors and materials used in summer clothes make one appear larger."

"Although I am middle-aged, I always like to wear shorts and play clothes in hot weather when they are appropriate. Unless something happens to this nine pounds I have gained, even my family will not see me in shorts."

"I have a lot of weight to lose and I dread summer. If I could lose a few pounds quickly, I think I would be encouraged to continue. I suffer with this weight in hot weather, and I like to dance and never do any more."

TO ALL MY READERS—I am answering these pleas for help this week with my 9-Day Diet which gives you a loss of from five to 10 pounds in nine days.

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
Pass	1♣	1♥	Pass
4♥	Pass	Pass	5♣
Pass	Pass	Double

Opening lead — ace of hearts.

Defense is sometimes a delicate proposition. Look at this hand where West had to measure the situation perfectly to defeat five clubs.

South might have doubled four hearts, and this contract would have been defeated if North had accepted the double.

West led the ace of hearts against five clubs and shifted to a low diamond. Declarer won the trick with the king, ruffed a heart, and then cashed the A-K of clubs and A-Q of diamonds, ending in dummy.

He had eliminated all red cards from his own hand and dummy's by this time and was ready to tackle spades. To make the contract he had to hold himself to one spade loser.

He led the nine of spades. If East had ducked, South would have made the contract by playing low from his hand. But East rose to the occasion and played the ten on the nine.

South covered with the jack and now it was West who had to come through with the right play. He let the jack hold, playing the deuce. As a result, South had to go down one.

Declarer entered dummy with a trump in order to lead another spade, but it did not matter whether he led the eight or five from dummy. In either case, he was bound to lose two spades and go down. Thus, if he led the eight, East would cover with the queen, while if he led the five, East would play low to trap the king.

But suppose West had taken the jack of spades with the ace when the suit was first led. Then he could not have defeated the contract regardless of what he returned.

If he led back the seven, dummy would play the eight to trap East's queen, while if he led back the deuce, dummy would play low to again trap the queen.

West's lowly seven proved to be the key factor in the razor-sharp battle.

DEAR ABBY: As a disinterested third party, your advice is needed. My brother's wife is running around and everyone in our little town knows it but him. She uses all sorts of lame excuses to get out of the house "for an hour" and comes in at midnight with more lies. My brother works 12 hours a day trying to provide for her and their three children. She sleeps till noon and lets the children fend for themselves. The house is a mess. She dresses like a street-walker and her children look like war orphans. Would you advise me to give her enough rope to hang herself? Or should I tell my brother? We are decent people and everyone is talking.

DEAR ABBY: You said, "Just because there's chrome on the dome doesn't mean there is no power under the hood." Will you please tell me how YOU know?

DEAR I: Some of my best friends are mechanics.

DEAR ABBY: If a baby-sitter is asked to come to sit from 7:00 P.M. until midnight, what do you think about this situation? I arrived promptly at seven. The parents were nowhere near ready to leave the house. At eight, they left, saying, "Well, that's one hour less of your time—sorry." They came back at a quarter to one—exactly 45 minutes later than they promised—saying, "Sorry, we're a few minutes late, ha ha." Then I got paid for four hours. What would YOU do?

OVERWORKED AND UNDERPAID

DEAR O. AND U.: I would tell them they owed me for five hours and 45 minutes and no "ha ha" about it.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "B": Give her a long, hard second look. It's easier to get rid of a girl friend than a wife. And a whole lot cheaper.

Stop worrying. Let Abby help you with that problem. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Attendants Announced

Revealing plans this morning for her approaching wedding, is Miss Grace Ann Vodra, whose betrothal to Leon Vogt was announced recently.

The bride-elect has chosen Miss Jo Rowden as her maid of honor and only attendant for the wedding, which will take place on Saturday, May 12, at Westminster Presbyterian Church.

Serving his brother as best man will be Frank Vogt, and seating the guests for the 2 o'clock afternoon service will be Don Vodra, brother of the bride-elect, and Larry Wentink.

Mrs. Don Downing, Mrs. James Kitchen and Mrs. Ronald Kitchen were co-hostesses on Friday, April 6, when they entertained at a dessert supper honoring Miss Vodra. Sixteen guests were invited to the home of Mrs. Vernon Vogt, and during the evening hours, a miscellaneous shower was presented to the honoree.

$30 Million For A 'Jumping Jet'

London (UPI) —U.S. Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara said Tuesday the United States will spend more than $30 million to help develop a "jumping jet" fighter that can zoom straight up from take off, fly faster than sound or hover in the air.

The plane was designed for Britain's Hawker Aviation Company by Sir Sydney Camm who also designed the Hurricane fighters of World War II Battle of Britain fame.

The plane, known as the P1127, is equipped with air intakes pipe lips that can be expanded or contracted to vary the intake of air to the Pegasus turbojet engine to suit the mode of flight.

It can take off conventionally, zoom straight up from small airfields, or hover. Four rotatable exhaust nozzles are in the wing roots on both sides of the fuselage. Control during low speed or hovering flight is maintained with variable reaction jets in the wingtips.

Precise performance details are secret but air experts said the P1127 probably is faster than Hawker's conventional Hunter jet fighter which flies considerably above sonic speed.

"I understand that will be so," McNamara told newsmen when asked about reported American plans to back the P1127.

He said American investment in the plane will total between $30 million and $35 million.

"The prime purpose of my visit to London is to discuss with (British defense minister) Mr. Harold Watkinson a series of research projects," McNamara said. "Another thing we want to discuss is the Skybolt, a weapon for possible use by our bomber force."

Sergeant Re-Enlists While 8,000 Feet Above Ground

First Sergeant Clifford A. Holmes, U.S. Marine Corps instructor with the NROTC at the University of Nebraska, may have set a record of sorts on April 28.

The veteran of 26 years service with the Marines re-enlisted.

That's not unusual, but the fact that he was sworn in while flying 8,000 feet over Lincoln is unique.

Maj. David D. Finne Jr., Marine instructor at NU, administered the oath while the plane — returning a group of Nebraska midshipmen from an indoctrination tour of West Coast Marine facilities — circled the Lincoln Air Force Base.

"I wanted to re-enlist in Lincoln," Holmes said. "I was discharged on April 27 in California. When the pilot reported we were circling Lincoln, Major Finne swore me in."

A veteran of World War II and Korea, Holmes re-enlisted in 1944 while serving on Guadalcanal.

"All the other times were at Camp Pendleton," he said.

Pascual Homers, Notches 4th Win

... GENTILE GETS 5TH

St. Paul-Minneapolis (P) — Ace Cuban right hander Camilo Pascual pitched and battered Minnesota to an 8-3 victory over the Baltimore Orioles Tuesday as the Twins snapped a 5-game home losing streak and stretched a modest winning skein to 3 games.

Pascual hurled his 4th complete game for his 4th win against one setback this season. In the process he whacked a two-run homer off Orioles starter and loser Chuck Estrada in the second inning.

He permitted 9 Baltimore hits, including Jim Gentile's 5th homerun, a 400-foot poke into the right field bull pen with a man in the 8th. The 1961 American League strike-out king whiffed only 3 and issued but one walk.

The Orioles counted their first run in the second as Brooks Robinson doubled and Gus Triandos followed with a single.

The Twins got that tally back quickly in the last of the second when Bob Allison singled to right and came all the way around on Earl Battey's double to left-center.

Minnesota broke the 1-1 tie later in the second when with two out Pascual belted Estrada's two-strike changeup into the left field bleachers 360 feet away for his second major league homer. It scored Battey.

The Twins tacked on 3 insurance runs in the 7th and two in the 8th against relievers Wes Stock, Jim Lebew and Billy Hoelt.

... A'S LOSE, 3-2
Kansas City (P) — Vic Wertz's single with the bases filled in the 10th inning broke up a battle between unbeaten pitchers Tuesday night and gave the Detroit Tigers a 3-2 victory over the Kansas City Athletics.

The pitching honors went to Jim Bunning who won his third straight game. The loser was Jerry Walker who lost his first after winning three.

Walker walked Jake Wood and threw too late to second base on Billy Bruton's sacrifice bunt to start off the tenth inning. After Al Kaline had forced Bruton at second, Norm Cash was given an intentional base on balls, filling the bases.

Rocky Colavito lined to Norm Siebern at first base for the second out but Wertz hit a blistering shot off Siebern's glove to score Wood and Kaline and give the Tigers a 3-1 lead.

Jerry Lumpe hit a solo home run in the home half of the inning. Then Bunning closed the door by getting Siebern to fly out before striking out pinch hitter Ed Charles for the final out.

Kaline's leadoff homer in the 4th inning brought the Tigers the first run of the game. It was Kaline's 6th round trip of the season. The Athletics tied it in the 6th.

Bunning walked Siebern and hit Manny Jimenez after Lumpe had hit a lead-off single. Gino Cimoli's sacrifice fly brought Lumpe home but Wayne Causey ended the threat by bouncing into a double play.

O'Dell Hurls Third Win; Cepeda Homers

San Francisco (P) — Left-hander Billy O'Dell hurled his third pitching victory of the year and Orlando Cepeda walloped his 7th home run Tuesday night as the National League-leading San Francisco Giants beat Pittsburgh 4-2 for their 7th straight victory.

O'Dell allowed 9 hits in going the route before a Candlestick Park crowd of 23,657 on a night when fog occasionally drifted across the field.

A pair of double plays helped keep him out of trouble as he fanned 7 Pirates in running his record to 3-0.

The Giants collected 8 hits in putting their season record at 16-5, a game and one-half ahead of second-place St. Louis.

There were two out in the 9th when Donn Cleadenon homered over right field fence and Eddie Logan slapped his 4th straight single. O'Dell got Bill Mazeroski on an infield grounder to finish the game.

Singles by Cleadenon, Logan and Mazeroski brought the Pirates' run in the second inning.

Cards Score 5 In First For 5th Win In 6 Games

St. Louis (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals made a 5-run first-inning stand up Tuesday night as they downed the Houston Colts 6-4 for their 5th victory in their last 6 games.

Rookie righthander Ray Washburn, who had relief help from Ed Bauta, boosted his record to 2-0 and the Redbirds improved their mark to 12-4. The Colts fell to 7-9 in the 3-game series opener.

The losing pitcher was southpaw Dean Stone, a former Cardinal who was chased in the first inning when he was charged with all 5 St. Louis runs.

A wild spell proved costly to Stone, who had won his two previous decisions, both on shutouts over the Cubs.

With one out in the first, Julian Javier walked and stole second. After Minnie Minoso walked, Ken Boyer's single scored Javier. When left fielder Jim Pendleton threw wild, Minoso also went home and Boyer ended up on 3rd.

Asphalt Pranksters Kill Fish

By ROGER WAIT

Star Staff Writer

Thousands of fish in Salt Creek and the lower Platte River will die in the next few days.

The death of the game fish won't be due to fishermen's efforts at angling, however; they will die of suffocation because of a prank pulled by some Lincoln youngsters.

As a result of the prank, a thousand gallons of liquid asphalt, which floats on water, is oozing its slow sticky way from 4th and J in Lincoln to Salt Creek through a storm sewer.

The situation came to light Tuesday evening when State Game Commission Agent Dale Bruha checked out complaints of the asphalt getting in the streams.

Bruha notified Lincoln police who began investigation. From a Dobson Brothers Construction Co. official, police learned that pranksters had turned a valve on a 1,000-gallon asphalt tank in the company's yard at 4th and J.

The sticky black stuff trickled out on the ground and wound its way to a drainage ditch along 4th St. south of J. It went in a storm sewer just north of 4th and H.

The storm sewer empties into an arm of Salt Creek about two blocks west of 1st and J, just south of Burlington Railroad tracks.

Bruha estimated that the $1,500 worth of asphalt had gotten halfway down Salt Creek toward Ashland as of late Tuesday.

The conservation officer said the asphalt will suffocate carp and buffalo in the creek between Lincoln and Waverly, plus catfish from Waverly to the mouth of Salt Creek near Ashland.

By being on the surface of the water, the asphalt will cut off the fish's oxygen supply.

Bruha noted that operations at the Gretna Fish Hatchery will probably not be affected due to traps keeping foreign substances in the Platte from getting into the hatchery.

Police said investigation will continue Wednesday.

Roman Line Captures 35th Derby Trial With Lee Town In Second

... WINNER TAKES LEAD AT HOME STRETCH

Louisville, Ky. (P) — Roman Line splashed into the lead just before turning into the home stretch and easily won the 35th running of the $16,050 Derby Trial at Churchill Downs Tuesday.

The J. V. P. Stable's Lee Town, who led midway in the one-mile race, a final test for Saturday's $125,000-added Kentucky Derby, finished second and the Reverie Knoll Farm's Sharp Count was 3rd.

Royal Attack, a California-owned colt who won the Santa Anita Derby, finished a dismal 4th in the field of 7 3-year-olds, all of them eligible for the 1 1/4 mile classic but none of them among the highly-regarded contenders.

Jockey Jimmy Combest rode Roman Line, who was timed in 1:37 1-5 on the track, left sloppy by heavy showers of Monday night and Tuesday morning. It was far off the track record of 1:34 3-5 set by Crozier in last year's Derby Trial.

Roman Line, owned by T. A. Grissom of Detroit, finished 3rd in the Blue Grass Stakes last Thursday at Keeneland.

Ridan, one of the big Derby favorites, won the Blue Grass and Decidedly was second. In that race Roman Line finished 6 1/4 lengths behind the winner.

The crowd established Roman Line the even-money favorite since he had won an earlier race at Keeneland and in March, at the New Orleans Fairgrounds, he was just nosed out by Admiral's Voyage in the Louisiana Derby.

The winner paid $4.00, $3.20 and $2.60. Lee Town returned $6.40 and $3.80 and Sharp Count was $3.00 to show.

At the start of the race from the mile chute leading straight into the backstretch, Willie Shoemaker sent Sharp Count into the lead. Lee Town was second and Roman Line 3rd.

Going into the far turn, with about a half mile remaining, Sharp Count began to fall back and Willie Carstens sent Lee Town in front rounding the bend. Then Combest moved Roman Line quickly on the outside, overhauled Lee Town and had established a half length lead as they straightened for home with a quarter of a mile remaining.

The favorite drew away with every stride and won with Combest pulling him up. The margin was 6 big lengths.

Lee Town finished 3 quarters of a length ahead of Sharp Count and Royal Attack was another 2 1/2 lengths away.

Bigger Bonus finished 5th, with Boone Co. 6th and Mister Pitt last. Mister Pitt, the second choice at 7-2, ran a dismal race and probably decided his derby status — out.

There's also a question of whether Royal Attack, trained by Buddy Hirsch, will return in the Derby Saturday.

Roman Line and Royal Attack had 122 pounds. Lee Town packed 114 and Sharp Count, who won the Fountain of Youth Stakes at Gulfstream Park, carried 119.

Five winners of the Derby Trial have gone on to capture the Derby, but none of those seen Tuesday afternoon appeared capable of threatening the top Derby contenders. In fact, it was questionable whether trainer Tennessee Wright would send Roman Line back Saturday.

Grissom has had 4 Derby starters, none close to the money, and Roman Line is a son of Roman, a notorious sprinter in his day.

The colt earned $10,432 and boosted his total earnings to $72,141.

The Derby Trial was inaugurated in 1924, and for many years has been the final major test for horses going after the roses on Saturday. Black Gold won the 1924 trial, and then took the derby. Others taking both races were Citation (1948), Hill Gail (1952), Dark Star (1953), and Tim Tam (1958).

Last year Crozier won the trial stakes in track record time of 1:34 3-5, then was barely beaten by Carry Back in the derby.

WHAT DO 3 out of 4 DOCTORS RECOMMEND for TENSE, NERVOUS HEADACHES?

A Survey Also Reveals What Many Doctors, Themselves, Take When They Have Headache Pain.

New York, N.Y. — Medical reports confirm tense, nervous headaches are by far the most common kind and are caused by tension that presses on the nerves. But fortunately, one can get remarkable relief in minutes with a special tablet that not only relieves pain but also the emotional tension, mental fatigue and depression that usually accompany such headaches.

Tense, nervous headaches call for the stronger yet safer medication in Anacin®. A survey reveals 3 out of 4 doctors recommend the fast, pain-relieving ingredients in Anacin. In fact, many doctors themselves rely on this same type relief when they have a headache.

Anacin Tablets give fast, prolonged and — more complete relief than aspirin or buffered aspirin. You see, Anacin is different and contains special medication not found in aspirin or buffered aspirin. It's this extra medication that not only relieves pain, but also relaxes its tension and releases painful pressure on nerves.

Despite their strength and effectiveness — Anacin Tablets contain no narcotics, do not form a habit or leave one depressed. Anacin Tablets are so safe, they may be taken as directed as often as needed without upsetting or irritating the stomach.

See if the extra medication in stronger yet safe Anacin doesn't work better for you. Change to Anacin for fast, long-lasting and more complete relief.

Renewal Could Cut Relocation, OUR Stresses

Urban renewal in Lincoln could prevent rather than cause relocation of families, the Organization for Urban Renewal said in a statement Tuesday.

"It is our opinion that there will be no more relocation of people with urban renewal adopted on May 15 than there would be without it — and probably less," the statement said, stressing this is only "the considered opinion of those of us directing the urban renewal campaign. We are not trying to assume powers we do not possess."

"We base our opinion on the fact that if we act now there will be little or no necessity for the 'bull-dozing' type of renewal which has been necessary in some American cities. Instead we will be able to handle our problem largely through the repair and renovation of existing structures," the statement explained.

"Without urban renewal, relocation could be a hit-or-miss affair in which the displaced persons must fend for themselves and in which the community has no known plan for the solution of the problem," the renewal proponents noted.

E-Week Progresses To Modern Problems

When it first started they were demonstrating the telegraph key and hadn't even thought of radio.

Now, they're displaying a device to rid the radio listener of a nuisance — the commercial.

This progress shows dramatically the changes science and engineering have undergone during the life of the University of Nebraska's annual "E-Week," putting on its 50th anniversary show beginning Thursday.

An open house at the College of Engineering from 2-10 p.m. Thursday will kick off this year's affair, which already has gained a touch of the zaniness which sometimes characterized it in the late 30s.

Moon Man Stymied

Tuesday, a "Moon Man," publicizing E-Week, and Lincoln police had a small misunderstanding.

Earlier E-Weeks were sometimes marked by friendly, if violent, rivalry between engineering students and nearby Law School students, according to E-Week historians.

Violent or zany, they've usually been big crowd pleasers. In 1950, 12,000 persons viewed the open house, still a record. Most years, the attendance approaches 6,000.

In addition to the open house, there will be an 11 a.m. Friday convocation, with a NASA staff scientist, Robert Tiemann, the speaker.

Friday afternoon the engineers and architects, who have spent their spare time preparing exhibits for a month, will relax with a "field day" in Pioneer Park. The public is welcome at this event too.

Festivities wind up Friday night with a dinner-dance, reignited over by Miss Ann Savage of Omaha, Miss E-Week of 1962.

Mrs. Cochran Receives Bruise In Car Mishap

Rochester, Minn. (AP) — Mrs. R. L. Cochran, 77, wife of the former Nebraska governor, suffered a contusion on the left knee in a car accident Tuesday, Mayo Clinic reported.

She remained in a hospital for observation.

Cochran, who was in the car also, was unhurt. Police said the car lurched into reverse as Mrs. Cochran got in at the driver's position. The car hit a fire hydrant and she was thrown out.

Mrs. Cochran came to Rochester for an examination of a hip operation which she underwent recently.

WU Given $400 Grant

Nebraska Wesleyan University has received a $400 scholarship grant from the Presser Foundation of Philadelphia.

Dr. Vance D. Rogers, president of Wesleyan, who announced the receipt of the grant, said it will be for use during the 1962-63 academic year.

He said the foundation stipulates that the scholarship be awarded to an undergraduate student in need of scholarship aid and that preference be given to those students who hope to become music teachers.

LT&T Asks For Toll Rate Cuts

The Lincoln Telephone & Telegraph Co. asked the state railway commission for authority to reduce its intra-state toll rates to a level similar to the rates of Northwestern Bell Telephone Co.

Northwestern Bell was ordered by the commission to reduce its rates and an order approving the new rates was approved April 6. The new rates for Northwestern go into effect Monday.

There was no indication from the commission what rates the Lincoln company has requested, but a spokesman said they would be comparable with Northwestern rates if approved.

Free! 30 Days Supply of Amazing New Vitamins For Folks Over 50

U.S. Department of Agriculture reveals vital health data for older folks. Medical research proves that as we grow older we often develop poor eating habits which lead to inadequate vitamin and mineral intake. Here is an actual quotation from an U. S. Dept. of Agriculture report: "Being badly nourished is often the reason for complaints that drag an older person down." For folks whose eating habits may be "dragging them down", Geriatric Research, Inc. has introduced Over-Fifty Capsulets. Each Over-Fifty Capsulet contains 28 ingredients—9 VITAMINS (including Blood-Building B-12)—12 MINERALS, Choline, Inositol and Methionine. A 30-day supply of Over-Fifty Capsulets (genuine $3.00 value) is offered FREE to help you discover their remarkable advantages. Also receive complete information about the money-saving Over-Fifty Plan. No obligation to buy anything. This free offer is definitely limited. To avoid disappointment, act today. Enclose 10c to help cover handling costs. Write: Dept., 2518, Geriatric Research, Inc., 179 N. Michigan Ave., Chicago 1, Illinois.

Two-Thirds Of Counties Dry

Dry, windy weather sapped moisture last week and nearly two-thirds of the state's counties report a shortage of surface soil moisture, government crop observers reported Tuesday. Field work made rapid strides with many sections finally back on schedule after early seasons delays. Dry soil conditions were beginning to interfere with some field work. Spring seeding of small grains was in the wind-up stage with only a small percentage of the acreage remaining to be planted. Some of the new seedings are up, but germination is spotted because of dry soil. Western areas are starting pump irrigation in order to insure seed sprouting and getting better stands. Corn planting started in widely scattered locations. It was fairly well advanced in the upper North Platte Valley, but only a few fields were planted in eastern sections. Pasture and range grasses have developed rather slowly, being retarded earlier by cold weather and now by lack of moisture. Areas with adequate moisture showed fair to good growth of grass during recent days. In general, new feed is short and livestock need grass feed because hay supplies are getting low and stalk fields are no longer available. Winter Kill Loss Winter wheat showed improvement where moisture was adequate, but progress was retarded in much of the central and western areas where surface soil moisture is short. Losses from winter kill are rather heavy in local areas. Livestock in the state made good progress during the week. Losses of new and young stock were more nearly normal. Production rates were rising and gains were satisfactory. Shipments of feeder cattle and calves into Nebraska during March were 77,000 head, down 26% compared with March, 1961. Sheep and lamb arrivals in the state in March were 22,000 head compared with 23,000 head a year earlier. Rainfall received throughout the state during the past week included:

Grand Island	.01	East	.09
Lincoln	.30	Norfolk	.07
Burwell	.25	Omaha	.04
North Platte	.01	Valentine	.04
Chadron	.01	West	.02
		Scottsbluff	.02

Precipitation received by sections since the beginning of the growing season, April 1, as compared to longtime averages include:

Northwest—37 inches (1962); 1.68 inches (average).
North Central—90; 1.88.
Northeast—1.27; 2.10.
Central—81; 1.92.
East Central—67; 2.13.
Southwest—50; 1.74.
South Central—29; 1.94.
Southeast—34; 2.22.
